SAC Bachman, Newark, called and advised in connection with the investigation relating to the stolen documents from our Media, Pennsylvania, Resident Agency, considerable surveillance activity was being applied to suspects living in the Princeton New Jersey, area. Two of the best suspects, [redacted] reside in Princeton and operate the [redacted], which is a known outlet for New Left activities. [redacted] are being subjected to surveillance activity; however, almost without exception, individuals with whom they are in contact are hippie types. U

SAC Bachman said he had talked to SAC LaPrade in New York concerning the possibility of utilizing three or four New York Agents on surveillance who are equipped to take on the appearance of hippies. Bachman said these Agents have hair pieces, clothes, etc., which allow them to mingle with hippie groups without creating attention. The New York Office, with Bureau approval, will make these Agents available in order to assist the Newark Office in its surveillance activity in the Princeton, New Jersey, area. U

Re: MEDBURG

Lab. No. D-710408068 LC

Specimens received 4/8/71

Q146 Copy of Memorandum dated 2/22/71, beginning "Title marked Changed to reflect the name [redacted]." U

Q147 Copy of FBI form dated 4/3/71, bearing typewritten message beginning "Enclosed is a document on an informer..." U

Result of examination:

The questioned typewriter impressions on Q147 most closely resemble the Laboratory standard for IBM Selectric Scribe elite style of type. This same style of type has been used on several specimens previously submitted in this case. U

Q146 and Q147 are additional Xerox copies of similar copies previously submitted in this case. Q146 and Q147 do not have the characteristic markings of the Xerox Model 660. U

No watermarks, indented writing of value, or other marks which would indicate the immediate source of this material were noted in Q146 or Q147. U

The submitted evidence will be returned separately. Photographs are retained. U

Reports have been received from various field divisions indicating copies of ten additional stolen FBI documents have been released to the news media by the Citizens Commission to Investigate the FBI. Reports received thus far indicate the "Washington Post," the "Philadelphia Evening Bulletin," and the Chicago Bureau of the "Los Angeles Times" are recipients of this material. Both the "Philadelphia Evening Bulletin" and the Chicago Bureau of the "Los Angeles Times" have alerted our field offices. No direct information has been received from the "Washington Post" at this time. U

These documents have not been previously made public by the Citizens Commission. An announcement accompanying the documents is entitled "Packet #2, Documents 15-24." Copies furnished the Chicago Bureau of the "Los Angeles Times" have been received at the Bureau and have been preliminarily examined by the Laboratory Division. The characteristic markings of the Xerox 660 used for copying previous specimens were not noted thereon. Neither was there any indented writing or watermarks of value. Examination is continuing. There follows a brief description of each document: U

(1) Memorandum from SAC, Philadelphia, to all Resident Agents, dated March 29, 1968, captioned "Racial Informants - Ghetto," which briefly instructs each informant is to be aware of the potential for violence in ghetto areas. U

52-94527-525

(2) Memorandum from SAC, Philadelphia, to all Headquarters Agents, February 26, 1968, captioned "Racial Informants." This document outlines the necessity for development of additional racial informants and the need to be aware of potentially dangerous situations which could trigger a riot. It briefly outlines administrative and investigative procedures with respect to such informants. U

(3) Airtel from SAC, Philadelphia, to Bureau, December 2, 1970, captioned "Black Student Groups on College Campuses, Racial Matters," which lists numerous groups in the Philadelphia area and instructs investigations be conducted to determine the size, aims, purposes, activities, etc., of these groups. MEMORANDUM

TO: ALL HEADQUARTERS AGENTS

DATE: 2/26/68

FROM: SAC [REDACTED]

SUBJECT: RACIAL INFORMANTS

It is essential that this office develop a large number of additional racial informants at this time and that we continue to add and develop racial informants and exploit their potential during the months ahead. In the inspection just passed, the Inspector pointed out, as we all know, that this is a problem of the entire office in which every Agent and every squad shares responsibility. There is no question but what, if a riot does occur, especially in Philadelphia, all Agents will be working on riot problems. It is a major part of our responsibility to learn in advance, if this is humanly possible, if a riot is planned or is expected to occur. In this way it may be possible to actually forestall a riot or at least to be better prepared if it does happen. Whether or not a riot does occur, the Bureau holds us responsible to keep the Bureau, the Department and the White House advised in advance of each demonstration. The Bureau expects this coverage to come through informant sources primarily. In addition, we must advise the Bureau at least every two weeks of existing tensions and conditions which may trigger a riot. This type of information can only come from a widespread grass-roots network of sources coupled with active informant coverage by individuals who are members of subversive and revolutionary organizations. U

The Bureau has set up three types of racial informants using classification [REDACTED] for all three: 1) Persons who are members of and give information regarding white hate groups; 2) Persons who are members of or give information regarding black nationalist and black revolutionary groups; 3) racial informants (ghetto). The last are individuals, white and black, who live and/or work in ghetto type areas and are in a position to advise of activities, rumors, tensions, etc. in those ghettos. More specifically, they may be able to advise of the activities of individual trouble makers and rabble rousers. (Detail regarding the creation and handling of racial informants (ghetto) will appear below).U

This office must expand its coverage in all three categories, but especially 2 and 3. Racial informants and racial informants (probationary) in the first two categories will normally be handled by Agents on the No. 3 squad and by resident Agents where pertinent.U

The Agents of other squads who develop such informants will, of course, be given full credit.U

Each Agent is required to obtain at least one racial informant (ghetto).U

Sources of ghetto informants:

Preferably these should be people known to you as PCIs former PCIs or neighborhood sources who you believe will cooperate if requested and given appropriate instructions.U

We are exploring other sources which may produce large numbers of prospects such as men honorably discharged from the armed services, members of veterans organizations and the like. Any additional ideas along these lines will be appreciated and should be brought to SA EDWARD COLE.U

The Bureau suggests that employees may have friends, relatives or acquaintances who can be of help in gathering racial intelligence. These would include people now residing in other field divisions who could be called to the attention of pertinent offices. Other sources which should be kept in mind are employees and owners of businesses in ghetto areas which might include taverns, liquor stores, drugstores, pawn shops, gun shops, barber shops, janitors of apartment buildings, etc. The Bureau also suggests contacts with persons who frequent ghetto areas on a regular basis such as taxi drivers, salesmen and distributors of newspapers, food and beverages. Installment collectors might also be considered in this regard.U

Supervision and Coordination:

As the [redacted] files are opened they will be assigned to

MEMO, SAC
[redacted]

Agents throughout the office preferably to those Agents who are already acquainted with the individuals and suggested them as prospects. Supervision will be by the No. 3 desk. Coordination will be handled by SA EDWARD COLE. U

Administrative and investigative procedures:

Each prospect will be the subject of a new [redacted] case.

Pertinent information regarding administrative handling appears in the handbook part I, pages 19i, 19j, 20, 20a and 20b. Notification to the Bureau appears on 19i. The background investigation necessary appears on page 20 as does information regarding 4 month progress letters and payment. Contact must be made at least every 2 weeks. An FD 209 must be submitted at the end of each month. Each contact should be recorded thereon with information as to whether it was positive or negative. All information should be recorded by memo or in the FD 209, with copies for the files on any individuals or organizations mentioned. Information pertinent to the general racial situation should be designated for Philadelphia file 157-1214. U

Pertinent information must be submitted at once so that any necessary teletypes can be furnished to the Bureau immediately and information disseminated to the PD and intelligence agencies. U

Regular contact should also be made with existing criminal and security informants and potential informants who live and/or work in ghetto areas or have access to pertinent information. Some of these should undoubtedly be converted to racial informants or racial informant (ghetto). There is no reason why such a person cannot also be given criminal or security assignments. The Bureau has, in fact, already instructed this office to convert several such persons to racial informants. U

For your information, all of these sources, regardless of their designations, will be set up in an area breakdown index of 3 x 5 cards which will be maintained in the office of the No. 3 supervisor. Accordingly, as each is developed and agrees to assist, pertinent information regarding his coverage should be recorded in the file and furnished to SA COLE. The area breakdown will be as follows: U

On the night of March 8, 1971, the Citizens' Commission to Investigate the FBI removed files from an east coast office of the FBI. These files will now be studied to determine:

- the nature and extent of surveillance and intimidation carried on by this office of the FBI, particularly against groups and individuals working for a more just, humane and peaceful society;
- how much of the FBI's efforts are spent on relatively minor crimes by the poor and powerless against whom they can get a more glamorous conviction rate, instead of investigating truly serious crimes by those with money and influence which cause great damage to the lives of many people; crimes such as war profiteering, monopolistic practices, institutional racism, organized crime, and the mass distribution of lethal drugs;
- the extent of illegal practices by the FBI, such as eavesdropping, entrapment, and the use of provocateurs and informers.

As this study proceeds, the results obtained along with the FBI documents pertaining to them will be sent to people in public life who have demonstrated the integrity, courage and commitment to democratic values which are necessary to effectively challenge the repressive policies of the FBI.

As long as the United States government wages war against Indochina in defiance of the vast majority who want all troops and weapons withdrawn this year, and extends that war and suffering under the guise of reducing it, as long as great economic and political power remains concentrated in the hands of small cliques not subject to democratic scrutiny and control, then repression, intimidation, and entrapment are to be expected. We do not believe that this destruction of democratic society results simply from the evilness, egotism or senility of some leaders. Rather, this destruction is the result of certain undemocratic social, economic and political institutions.

We have carried out this action in a way which does not physically threaten anyone. We intend no personal harassment of the people who work in the office from which the files were taken. Indeed, we invite them and others to join with us in building a peaceful, just, and open society; one which does not wage nor threaten war, which distributes human and material resources fairly, and which operates on the basis of justice rather than fear.

We have taken this action because:

- we believe that a law and order which depends on intimidation and repression to secure obedience can have but one name, and that name is tyranny;
- we believe that democracy can survive only in an order of justice, of an open society and public trust;
- we believe that citizens have the right to scrutinize and control their own government and its agencies;
- and because we believe that the FBI has betrayed its democratic trust and we wish to present evidence for this claim to the open and public judgement of our fellow citizens.

In doing this, we know full well the legal jeopardy in which we place ourselves. We feel most keenly our responsibilities to those who daily depend upon us, and whom we put in jeopardy by our own jeopardy. But under present circumstances, this seems to us our best way of loving and serving them, and in fact, all the people of this land.

ENCLOSURE

A New Left Events Calendar will be maintained by Squad #4 secretary. When from reviewing underground newspapers, calls from outsiders, complaints or informants we know of a demonstration gathering, educational, or similar event planned by a New Left group, it should be given to SA [] who will coordinate this calendar. He will log it with #4 secretary. This will enable us to project ahead what manpower needs we will have and enable us to answer all kinds of queries about the date we know a particular event is scheduled. It will correlate the knowledge of all.

Again on the subject of informants, there have been a few instances where security informants in the New Left got carried away during a demonstration, assaulted police, etc. The key word in informants, according to Bureau supervision, is "control." They define this to mean that while our informants should be privy to everything going on and should rise to the maximum level of their ability in the New Left Movement, they should not become the person who carries the gun, throws the bomb, does the robbery or by some specific violative, overt act becomes a deeply involved participant. This is a judgment area and any actions which seem to border on it should be discussed.

"Armed and Dangerous." Remember that every case which bears the Weatherman word in the caption must include the armed and dangerous warning in each communication just as armed and dangerous is carried in criminal cases.

Anti-Riot Law on 176 classification matters are now handled on desk #4. If they are racial in nature, they will continue to be handled on #9 desk. The basic legal statutes for them are Title 18, Sections 231, 245, and 2101. The Manual of Instructions should be referred to on this topic.

There are about 30 fugitive cases under investigation in this division where the basic violation grew out of New Left activity. Most are assigned to one agent. They will be reassigned in the near future so that each agent on Squad #4 will have about two of these cases. The Campus or Columbia Is a Warning to

A LARGER-than-life portrait of Karl Marx dominated the entrance of a classroom building; a red flag flew from its rooftop. Chains barred the doors of other buildings, and chanting mobs roamed across the campus. The scene might have been the University of Havana or Peking. It wasn't. It took place just a few express stops from Wall Street, at Columbia University, where, from April 23-30, student leftists seized and occupied five university buildings.

The siege tactics which disrupted Columbia and brought its normal activities to a halt represent the latest assault by a revolutionary movement which aims to seize first the universities and then the industries of America. The rebels are members of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), a nationwide organization with chapters on over 250 campuses (Barron's, November 15, 1965, and March 11, 1968).

Originally, when SDS began as an outgrowth of the socialist League for Industrial Democracy, it repudiated communism as an authoritarian system and excluded communists from its membership. However, in 1964-65, SDS sought to broaden its power base by forming a united front with communist youth groups. Although SDS continued to describe its objectives in such murky phrases as "participatory democracy," the real tenor of its phi-

They admit that their campaign was a failure, which they ascribe to student and faculty apathy, and to the administration's refusal to hear and to heed their policy recommendations.

SDS rebels then resorted to their ultimate political weapon: the initiation of physical force, believing that they had a moral right to do so because they were "acting in a good cause." In the past, they had released many trial balloons to test this technique: they had obstructed N.R.O.T.C. graduation ceremonies; they had staged sit-ins in the offices of university administrators; and they had prevented recruiters for business firms and the C.I.A. from interviewing on campus. In each case, the consequence had been a polite rap on the knuckles, a verbal reprimand devoid of significant penalties such as expulsion or criminal prosecution.

On April 23, after trying to block construction at the gym site, SDS demonstrators and their militant Negro allies, members of the Student Afro-American Society, returned to campus. At the urging of their leaders, they marched on Hamilton Hall, the main classroom building of Columbia College. They were determined to barricade themselves in until the university met their demands. An unexpected fissure occurred within the ranks of the rebels who claimed to be united

The faculty mediators labored under the belief that the rebels would be willing to negotiate for a peaceful solution to the mounting crisis. What they discovered, however, was that every concession made by the administration only produced escalated rebel demands. SDS' ultimate demand was that they be granted total amnesty as a pre-condition for negotiation.

It grew increasingly obvious that the rebels would not withdraw from the buildings until forced out by the police. They wanted blood to be shed, so that they could raise the cry of "police brutality," acquire the aura of martyrdom, and thereby win the majority of students and faculty to their side. Regrettably, President Kirk played right into their hands, waiting until the sixth day of siege before calling in the true only in the narrow sense that they did not shed blood.

But force was inextricably involved in every act that they perpetrated. They held the Associate Dean as hostage against his will—that was force. They barricaded faculty and students from their offices and classrooms —that was force. They seized property which was not rightfully theirs and refused to release it until their demands were met—that was force. Each of these is punished as an act of force under the civil laws of our society. They are the crimes known as false imprisonment, criminal trespass and extortion.

If these acts were perpetrated by a lone individual, their criminal character would be obvious. If a single felon had held the dean hostage, or seized the office of President Kirk, rifled his desk and copied his files, no whether the initials of the aggressors are KKK or SDS.

3) The rebels claim they were justified in using force because the administration had refused to give them a hearing on their demands for change. A university, like a well-run business, should be interested in knowing whether it is satisfying its customers. If it provides students with incompetent faculty, or poor laboratories or libraries, or supports political policies which they oppose, it is in the university's self-interest to maintain open channels of communication so that grievances can be expressed and remedial actions considered. Students who are dissatisfied with any aspect of a university's policies have a right to peacefully protest and petition, and even, in extreme situations, to boycott classes or organize a student strike.
But they have no right to compel anyone to listen to their demands, nor a right to force other people to go on strike with them by prohibiting access to classes or by creating a general climate of terror to intimidate those who would oppose them.

4) The rebels claim that since force is justified when

7) Rebels should not be criminally prosecuted. After all, they are students, not criminals. One need only remember that it was Nazi students who set fire to university libraries and terrorized professors. Being a student does not grant one an exemption from the laws which prohibit attacks on human life and property. The rebels acted like criminals and should be punished as such.

8) It is impractical to suspend or expel the student rebels because there are so many of them. This amounts to saying that if a sufficiently large mob breaks the law or violates individual right, it will be immune from punishment. If this principle is accepted, then every law-breaker will be safe from prosecution if he can find enough members for his gang. This will provide the leader with an absolutely irresistible recruitment device, and invite the outbreak of a reign of terror.

9) Admittedly the rebels violated property rights, but calling in the police could result in injury or loss of life, which is more important than loss of property. This argument amounts to saying that the lives of aggressors are more important than the property of victims. In so

By letter dated 7/24/68 the Bureau instructed that all offices must now give serious and penetrative thought to methods for obtaining maximum productivity from the ghetto informants developed by each individual office. The instructions from the Bureau set forth a number of assignments which the Bureau feels should be given to each such informant in order to insure such productivity. U

1. Attend and report on open meetings of known or suspected black extremist organizations. U

In the Philadelphia area the following places can be considered logical meeting areas where ghetto informants might be sent in order to gather information for this office: U

Black House (157-2446)

3. Determine if efforts are being made by black extremists to take over such criminal activities as narcotics traffic and the operation of numbers rackets. U

In this regard it should be noted that any information received from racial informants concerning gambling activities in the Philadelphia area should be directed to Philadelphia File 92-1570 Sub B so that this office might receive credit for any "handle" from such a gambling operation. U

4. Visit Afro-American type bookstores for the purpose of determining if militant extremist literature is available therein and, if so, to identify the owners, operators, and clientele of such stores. U

The following are known bookstores in the Philadelphia area which have been described in the past as distributing extremist literature: U

During the recent inspection this office was instructed to separate security matter supervision to create a "New Left" and an "Old Left" desk.

Squad #3 was designated to be the "Old Left" desk. While retaining espionage and foreign intelligence matters, it will handle the investigations of all organizations and individuals who fall in the "Old Left" category. Generally, "Old Left" means the Communist Party and the various splinter and Trotskyite groups which have been in existence for many years. The youth groups and satellites of the Communist Party and these splinter groups are also to be handled in the "Old Left" category and on Squad #3.

Squad #4 was designated to handle "New Left" matters which includes both organizations and individuals. This is a relatively broad term insofar as newly formed organizations with leftist or anarchistic connotations. Among other things, desk #4 will be responsible for such matters as SDS, STAG, underground newspapers, communes, commune investigations, the Resistance.

It is not contemplated that such organizations as the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, SANE, AFSC, etc., which have long been in existence and are now attempting to polarize themselves toward revolting youth will be considered within the investigative purview of "New Left."

FBI's Surveillance, Documents Are Not Surprising to Subjects

By DONALD C. DRAKE
and BILL COLLINS

Of The Inquirer Staff

Many of the people mentioned in the documents stolen from the Media office of the FBI seemed to be just ordinary people, but they weren't surprised to learn that the FBI was keeping tabs on them.

Some of them almost seemed to assume that their names would be in some FBI file or another because that's what the FBI does.

This conclusion, at least, could be drawn from a survey by The Inquirer of a dozen persons named in 14 of more than 1000 documents stolen March 8, copies of which were forwarded to several newspapers.

Fifty-six persons had turned up in the files sent to the newspapers, and thereby became part of the ever-growing mass of information government agencies are collecting

... "not surprised"

about American citizens, provoking charges of invasion of privacy. They got there through phone taps, observations of informants, searches of bank records and passport office files, information supplied by college officials and mail snooping.

The documents indicated that many of these persons, who were later interviewed by The Inquirer, had nothing to do with revolutionary movements, demonstrations, or other activities that could be considered a threat to the nation.

Still, the persons interviewed accepted almost matter of factly that the FBI had gone to the trouble to write a few words about them and none appeared particularly angry.

"The FBI has its job to do and it does it," said a 16-year-old high school girl who gained FBI notice by calling a tapped Black Panther telephone in search of a speaker for a school program.

An Illinois nurse, who got on the list when she accepted a collect phone call from her Black Panther son seeking a mail order loan on the same tapped phone, was philosophical:

"I don't care where they put my ~~same~~ because I'm working hard to make money and an honest living and I don't have time to do bad things."

"It's kind of a disturbing thing, but I can't be terribly surprised," said an Idaho Scout leader who, in trying to arrange a Russian trip for his Explorer troop, wrote a letter to the Russian embassy that ended up in FBI files.

"If I'd known they were interested in that letter," said Thomas E. Ingerson, a cosmologist at the University of Idaho, "I'd have been happy to send them a copy."

A handful of well-known Philadelphia personalities were listed in the stolen files.

One document surveying the activities of the Black Economic Development Conference, reported that the Rev. Wycliffe Jang-Dharrie, president of the West Philadelphia chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was to chair the group's tactical committee.

"I'm not at all surprised that they have a file on me," said Mr. Jang-Dharrie. "They get a file on anyone who becomes vocal in the community and begins to become relevant to the people... you become a threat to the community when you begin helping people."

WRO LEADER NAMED

Fiery Welfare Rights Organization leader Mrs. Roxanne Jones is also named on the stolen documents, in a Feb. 9, 1971, report on the Black Economic Development Conference here.

Mrs. Jones, 41, is named as a potential chairman of a women's committee and membership on the executive committee of the BEDC, which was attempting to strengthen the organization. Mrs. Jones could not be reached for comment.

Admitted activists and other leaders in the campus movement said they would have been surprised if the FBI didn't have something on them, but they all acknowledge that this was the first conclusive evidence they had that the FBI was interested in them.

Though they weren't surprised, they were all angry about FBI surveillance, insisting it was an invasion of privacy and had nothing to do with national security. One said it was turning the nation into a fascist state.

It's not known what it means to be listed in an FBI file, even for innocuous reasons, because the FBI refuses to say anything about the matter.

Categorically refusing to comment, an FBI spokesman in Washington would not answer when asked whether all names in its files are indexed so that if scout leader Ingerson, for instance, should apply for a government job an FBI check would show his proposed trip to Russia.

The pilfered files contained the names of all 34 black students at Swarthmore College during 1969, when there were disturbances on the campus.

The stolen documents showed an unusual emphasis on the black movement, but this could be more a reflection of the interests of the people who stole the files than the FBI. More than $100 were stolen and among the 14 distributed to the press, none dealt with matters that occupy much FBI time such as organized crime, bank robberies, military clearance checks, etc.

Other documents among the 14 concern attendance at a Black Economic Development Council meeting and the BEDC's bank account. Muhammad Kenyatta, Philadelphia area leader of BEDC, which in 1969 issued the Black Manifesto demanding reparations from churches for mistreatment of black people, is also covered extensively.

Another document relates conversations on a Black Panther Party telephone.

And a communication to all bureaus from "Director, FBI" (J. Edgar Hoover) said:

"Effective immediately, all BSUs (black student unions) and similar organizations organized to protect the demands of black students, which are not presently under investigation, are to be subjects of discreet, preliminary inquiries, limited to established sources and carefully conducted to avoid criticism, to determine the size, aims, purposes, activities, leadership and key activists and extremists' interest or influence in these groups.

"Open individual cases, on officers and key activists in each group to determine background and if their activities warrant active investigation.

The investigations to be conducted in accordance with instructions in Section 87D of the Manual of Instructions regarding investigations of organizations connected with institutions of learning."

The FBI report on conversations over the Black Panther Party headquarters telephone excerpted such things as:

"During a conversation between SANDRA and RUSSELL, RUSSELL mentioned there was no heat in the office and said that they had no money."

"During a conversation between DELORES and RUSSELL, DELORES stated her baby was due in four months."

A representative of Western Union called for RUSSELL... advising that they had a money order for him to pick up."

The remaining documents concerned activists and others on college campuses, including Prof. Daniel Bennett of Swarthmore, who formerly taught at Brandeis University, who was put under an elaborate net of surveillance because the FBI thought he might aid two suspects in a bank robbery and killing of a policeman. He has denied knowing the suspects.

Commenting on the FBI's investigation of his association with people he claims he doesn't know, Bennett charged that the agency "uses every loose connection of association as an excuse to investigate."

"Since Susan Saxe (one of the bank suspects) attended Brandeis... that gave them excuse enough to watch me," the professor said.

He charged the FBI with being indiscriminate in its investigations and using the "suckshot" method."

Asked if he thought of himself like the government conducts the war in Indochina, he said to illustrate his point, "We drop bombs everywhere hoping to hit the target. More often than not, they miss."

Asked if he thought of himself as a radical, Bennett said:

"J. Edgar Hoover (director of the FBI) is the radical. He operates in a clandestine fashion in which his secret police meddle into the lives of innocent people."

The FBI had a two-page file on Miss Mary J. Lawhon, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Zim E. Lawhon of Scanton. She was described as "an inveterate Marxist revolutionist and a type of person that should be watched as she will probably be very active in revolutionary activities."

Miss Lawhon laughed when told by an Inquirer reporter in a telephone interview from her home in Berkeley, Calif., that she was described as an inveterate Marxist. But she declined to suggest a more accurate description of herself.

She confirmed an item in the document, which said the information came from "a reliable source," that she had failed in an attempt to get into the Venceremos Brigade, a pro-Cuban group.

All she would say about her political goals was that she wanted the American Government to be replaced by a "democratic-socialist nonmale supremacist society."

A group calling itself the Citizens Commission to Investigate the FBI has claimed responsibility for stealing and distributing the documents, which came on a variety of paper, with and without FBI markings.

One was a handwritten note that didn't seem to mean anything, and most of the others have many apparently coded numbers listed on them.

A common type of stationery for the documents has a letterhead that says "United States Government Memorandum," with the last word in large italic letters. Across the bottom of these sheets is a bit of government pep talk:

"Buy U. S. Savings Bonds Regularly on the Payroll Savings Plan."

How Much Do We Really Know About the Work of the FBI?

All two hundred million of us in this country are in a bad way—and our freedoms may be in jeopardy—if we are dependent upon information from burglars to find out what the Federal Bureau of Investigation is doing.

Files stolen from the FBI office at Media, in Delaware County, and subsequently circulated among members of Congress and news media, are revealing not so much of the FBI as the massive public ignorance about this super-secret national investigative organization.

Some of the information distributed by the anonymous thieves, who hardly could be called a reliable source, seems to indicate that FBI agents have engaged in systematic invasions of privacy going beyond reasonable procedures for criminal investigation. The purloined records suggest the FBI routinely carries out surveillance assignments—prying into the lives of civil rights leaders, for example—that may exceed the notorious espionage activities of Army Intelligence brought to light in the hearings conducted by Senator Ervin of North Carolina.

Why is the FBI investigating these people? What have they done? Are citizens placed under surveillance for capricious reasons at the whim of someone in authority, and what use is made of the information compiled on the private lives of persons who are accused of no crime and have no reason to suspect they are being shadowed by government agents? These are questions too fundamental in a free society, with implications too suggestive of police state tactics, to be brushed lightly aside.

It would be unfair and rather naive to make a judgment of the FBI on the basis of documents no doubt selected by the burglars for the purpose of making the FBI look bad. But the harsh truth is that we know too little about the FBI to make an informed judgment on the credibility of its explanations either.

In nearly a half-century under the leadership of one man, who is somewhat of an enigma himself, the Federal Bureau of Investigation has become a legend in its own time—surrounded by an aura of romantic mysticism reminiscent of the best fiction that has been written about Scotland Yard and the Royal Mounted Police.

There is no denying that the FBI very often gets its man—and sometimes in rather dramatic fashion, as people old enough to remember the Dillinger era will testify—but exactly what else the FBI does isn't so clear.

Giving Director J. Edgar Hoover the full benefit of the doubt, which is something many of his critics would be reluctant to do, the fact remains that he is not immortal. Someday his far-ranging investigative apparatus—the closest thing to a national police force this country has—will pass to other leadership.

It is in the national interest for Congress and the people to know more about the FBI—its assignments, its objectives, its methods of operation. The light of public exposure could be directed with discretion to prevent violations of security and to avoid compromising the effectiveness of FBI investigators and informants.

If the FBI is doing a good job, let credit be given where credit is due. And if it isn't, let's find out about that, too. Most important of all, we ought to know more than we do about the nature of the job itself.

A committee of Congress should conduct a public inquiry into these matters, not for vindictive purposes but to be sure there are adequate safeguards to insure that the FBI will always act in the national interest, with due regard for the constitutional rights and freedoms of all.

★ ★ ★ Lots of Questions, No Answers

When The Inquirer called the FBI in Washington for comment on questions suggested by 14 of the documents stolen from the Media FBI office, the conversation went like this:

Inquirer: I've got some questions here about the stolen documents.

FBI spokesman (unidentified): We're not talking about this case, but you might as well go ahead and ask them.

Q. Who authorized the phone taps?

A. There's no evidence that we tapped phones.

Q. Why does the FBI list all the black students at Swarthmore?

A. No comment.

Q. Why such an interest in meetings of the Black Economic Development Council (the group that issued the Black Manifesto in 1969, asking for reparations for mistreatment of black people? I've never heard the BEDC called a subversive group.

A. No comment.

Q. Does the FBI cross-file all the names listed in its documents without any other reference? If not, why list them?

A. No comment.

Q. What evidence can the FBI give that these 14 documents do not reflect its general policy, as the bureau has claimed?

A. If you'll go back and reread that story, you'll find that we never said that. (A check showed that the statement was attributed to a spokesman for the Justice Department, parent agency of the FBI.)

Assistant Attorney General Mardian has called stating he desires the FBI contact any newspaper which publishes or has published stolen FBI data and attempt to solicit their cooperation in furnishing copies of the stolen serials. He stated in the event the Department decided to take some legal action, including subpoenaing a particular newspaper before a grand jury, he wanted to be able to state no exception was made with reference to contacting all newspapers involved. U

It has been observed that those newspapers which will cooperate in furnishing copies of stolen documents have immediately initiated contacts with our field offices advising them of the receipt of these documents. Contacts with other newspapers which have published data from these stolen documents, but have not called our field offices, have determined they will not cooperate in furnishing the documents received. U

The Director has indicated he does not want any more requests made of newspapers for the MEDBURG documents. However, if the newspapers offer them to us we will accept them, but we will not seek them out. U

ACTION: Attached for approval is a letter to Assistant Attorney General Mardian advising him of the hostility which we have encountered in contacting certain newspapers and that in view of the fact a grand jury might be convened, the Department should consider issuing subpoenas for those newspapers which have not volunteered to furnish copies of the stolen documents to the FBI. U

This is a summary of current developments in the March 8, 1971, burglary of the Media, Pennsylvania, Resident Agency, Philadelphia Division, wherein a quantity of FBI documents were stolen. U

INVESTIGATIVE GRAND JURY PREPARATION: [redacted] Department Attorney who is handling this case, has indicated that in all probability presentation of this matter to an investigative grand jury will be had in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. In accordance with his request, we are preparing a list of names and address of potential witnesses. In addition, [redacted] has indicated he is considering issuing forthwith subpoenas in those instances where uncooperative leasees of Xerox Model 660 refuse to furnish sample specimens from their machines. The Model 660 Xerox has been identified as having produced a large quantity of copies of stolen FBI material. U

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY NEWSPAPER RECEIVES COPY OF STOLEN FBI DOCUMENT: Newark reports that late on April 7, 1971, telephonic inquiry was made from the staff of the Rutgers University campus newspaper "Targum" relative to the receipt of a Xerox copy of an FBI document. One [redacted] who made the inquiry, desired to verify its authenticity, indicating the document had not been mailed to the newspaper and he knew nothing of its origin. He did not volunteer to make the document available and no comment was made to him by our Newark Office. From his description of the document, it appears to be identical to the one received through the mail on April 6, 1971, by Rutgers University President, which identifies FBI source on the University's Campus Patrol. U

SEARCH OF PHILADELPHIA COMMUNE: A highly sensitive Potential Security Informant, according to our Philadelphia Office, on April 6, 1971, made a systematic check throughout the Resistance commune located at 3605 Hamilton Street, Philadelphia. The informant reported she was satisfied in her own mind that there are no stolen FBI documents at the commune and could conceive of no location where they could be concealed without her discovering them. This commune is frequented by many of the principal suspects in the MEDBURG case, and we have a stationary plant in a position to observe those entering and exiting this commune. ~~XXXX~~ u

ADDITIONAL PERSONNEL REPORTING TO PHILADELPHIA: Twenty additional personnel drawn from the Newark, New York, and Baltimore Offices are reporting to Philadelphia today to assist in connection with our investigative efforts in this case. u

CHECK OF LOCKSMITHS SCHOOLS: Since the Laboratory has indicated markings were observed on one of the locks at the Resident Agency showing an attempt was made to pick that lock prior to forcing entry into the Resident Agency, we are making inquiries at locksmiths schools throughout the country checking names of suspects through their files in an effort to determine if any have had training in this profession. u

TONER EXAMINATION

Toner analysis conducted on 3/27/71. Xerox copies of Q23, 24, and 28 were made. Due to the length of time and destructive process, analysis was confined to three samples. Center portion of each of the three documents were removed and sufficient sample of toner was extracted. Analysis disclosed toner to be Xerox 1190, used exclusively in Xerox 660 Machine. This toner is unique to Xerox, which uses a fluidizing polymer (Penta Erythritol Tetra Benzoate). Results of complete toner analysis with graffs from Xerox will be furnished the Bureau. U

Q28

Hardwood Bleached Neutral Sulfite
Semichemical	79%
Softwood Bleached Kraft	21%

Q13 and 14 have characteristics similar to paper produced by [redacted] Port Edwards, Wisconsin, with a plant in Potsdam, New York. U

No conclusion could be obtained regarding Q15, due to the difficulty in staining because of resins - zinc oxide coating.

Q23, 24 and 28 appears to be Hammermill Paper, Erie, Pennsylvania with plants in Lockhaven, Pennsylvania and Oswego, New York. Hammermill supplies paper to Xerox according to xerox specification and also supplies paper to other sources under the same specifications. Therefore, no determination could be made as to whether the paper was Hammermill for Xerox or Hammermill for another source. It was concluded this paper is not Xerox 1024 or Hammermill O copy, due to the lack of water mark which indicates a Grade One paper. The paper appears to be Xerox 4024 (Grade Four), Xerox 1524 (Grade Five), Hammermill Fore O copy (Grade Four) or Hammermill Savings O copy. The difference between Grade Four and Grade Five paper is essentially due to the characteristics of the surface and this difference could not be ascertained due to toner and background on documents. The paper is a relatively smooth common bond duplicator grade. U

REPRODUCTION METHODS

Olivetti Underwood Copia II and Copia III impart a distinct dark color border on both sides and the top of the copy. These machines utilize zinc oxide coated paper. Olivetti Underwood is located Englewood Cliffs, New Jersey. An example is Q15. U

3M Process is Dual Spectrum. This process utilizes white and pink paper, each containing a chemical passing over an exposure section, which is then heat treated for development. 3M produces five machines which are as follows U

- (1) Casual Compact (Brief Case Type)
- (2) Casual Desk
- (3) Copy Mite
- (4) Model 107
- (5) Model 209

3M also underlicenses a machine, Trans-O-Gram Copymate. This machine as well as the above 3M machines utilizes 3M paper, which has a tulip mark on the reverse side. U

The Xerox 660 is in a family with Xerox 330 and 813, however, the 660 is the only xerox machine that reproduces at a one to one ratio. This machine imparts certain mechanical characteristics upon the original and the copy. The top edge of the original will have imparted upon it by the machine four pin-points which is caused by the document grippers. The document grippers hold the original to the document drum during the cycle. Copies should have three double sets of pinch marks on the top of the page, which is caused by the gripper bar. The gripper bar attaches to the copy and is pulled through the machine during the cycle. Thin vertical lines, approximately two and one half inches from each side of the copy is caused by toner build-up on the feed out rollers. Three wider vertical lines at the bottom of the copy is caused by toner build-up on document drum under the stops. The top one half inch of the original document will not be reproduced on the copy unless the plastic document carrier is used. If the document carrier is used the four pinpoints will not be imparted on the original. U

UNIQUE DOT

From analysis of numerous documents submitted, it is noted a unique dot characteristic to the unknown machine is located four and one half inches from the left side and from one quarter to one half from the bottom. This unique dot is reproduced on a eleven inch copy from a ten and one half inch original. Therefore, the last one half inch of the eleven inch copy is a reproduction of a one half inch section of the document drum. The dot can be caused by either dirt on the drum or a chip from the drum. To reproduce the dot it is necessary to utilize a ten and one half inch original and reproduce this on eleven inch paper. It is noted that if ten and one half inch document is reproduced on ten and one half inch paper, the dot will not appear. It is noted if an eleven inch document is reproduced on eleven inch paper the dot will not appear. In the event the unique dot is caused by dirt on the document drum the dot could be removed when the machine is cleaned. It is noted this unique dot is present on Q17-22, 24-26, 28-32, 35-41, 43, 45-47, 52-58, 60-66, 69-80, and 83. U

DOCUMENT EXAMINATION

(1) Envelope with news clipping. U

Q13 is a reproduction from a 3M process on 3M paper (tulip mark on reverse) U

Q67-Q68

Tom Bishop called to advise me that an envelope bearing the return address of the New York Times, 1020 L Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., was delivered to his office by courier. He advised me he did not know the identity of the courier; however, the courier was given this envelope by a guard at the entrance of the building. These are the only facts known with reference to this matter. U

LC# A-33886

A quick examination of the material indicates that it is additional material apparently delivered to the New York Times which appears to be identical to that heretofore furnished to Congressman Mitchell of Maryland and Senator McGovern of South Dakota. U

ACTION RECOMMENDED:

Under the circumstances it would be helpful if a contact could be made with the New York Times to determine the manner in which this information was delivered to the New York Times office here in Washington. It will also be desirable to attempt to trace back its delivery to Bishop's office. If approved, a contact will be made with the New York Times and in the meantime we will attempt to interview the guard at the entrance of the Justice Building who allegedly had this package handed to him. The attachments are being forwarded to the Laboratory for appropriate examination. U

In connection with possible future grand jury action, there are attached for your information and assistance memoranda pertaining to 39 individuals, all of whom are considered suspects in this burglary. U

Many of the Xerox copies of stolen FBI documents were produced on a Model 660 Xerox copier and bear markings peculiar to that copier, thereby enabling possible identification by Laboratory examination. Attached is a list of lessees of Model 660 Xerox copiers in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, area. These copiers, because of their location, could have been used to reproduce the stolen FBI material. It is believed the lessees of these machines would not voluntarily furnish copies for comparison purposes. U

DISCOVERY OF BREAK IN AND BURGLARY

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 3/12/71

At 7:40 a.m. SA [redacted], arrived at the Media Resident Agency and inserted a key into the locked door entrance to the resident agency, Room 203. After inserting the key in the door, it was turned, and it turned completely around as though it were in putty. The metal rim around the lock came loose. U

SA [redacted] realized that someone had been tampering with the door and immediately proceeded to the second door in the hallway which contained Room 204. This door is not used as an entrance door. Close examination of the door indicated that it had been pried open. SA [redacted] then leaned on the glass partition of the door and the door gave way several inches which would indicate that it had been opened. Recognizing that there were file cabinets in the resident agency against the door, force was used to push the door open sufficiently enough so that SA [redacted] could slip through the doorway and determine that the large metal supply cabinets that had previously been placed against the door had been moved sufficiently enough for a person to walk through. U

As SA [redacted] was entering the door, SA [redacted] of the Media Resident Agency and SA [redacted] appeared. SA [redacted] entered the resident agency with SAs [redacted] and [redacted] following. Upon entering the resident agency space, it was observed that drawers to the file cabinet and desk utilized by SA [redacted] were open and material obviously missing. U

SA [redacted] immediately and quickly searched the resident agency to determine that no one was in the resident agency, and at 7:50 a.m. Supervisor J. CLIFFORD OUSLEY of the Philadelphia Office was telephonically advised that the Media Resident Agency had been broken into and that from visual observation it was obvious that Bureau property had been taken. Date 3/12/71

Upon entering the Media Resident Agency, Media, Pa., on the morning of March 9, 1971, SA [] observed that the outer door to Room 204, which is not utilized as an entranceway, had been forced open inasmuch as the inner doorjamb had been pried loose by some means. It should be noted directly behind this door was a metal supply cabinet approximately 6 1/2 feet in height, 1 1/2 feet deep, and 3 feet wide. This cabinet had been moved from its original place by the opening of the aforementioned door. This cabinet, which had been moved 18 inches on an angle from the wall, had what appeared to be an imprint of a right hand on the right side of the cabinet as one entered the door. This imprint was processed for latent finger - palm prints; however, none were developed. U

It was also observed by SA [] none of the office furniture had been ransacked or upset. In this regard the supply cabinet, which contained all types of office forms, was not disturbed nor thrown about the rooms of this resident agency. U

Upon examining the five metal, locked, five-drawer cabinets, it was determined that the lock cylinders were in an "open position." U

The main drawers to the six desks had been forced open as the lock bolt of each desk was found in a locked position necessitating the use of a key prior to closing these desk drawers. A "tool mark," approximately one quarter inch indentation was found on top of each desk drawer which houses the lock. U

In addition, the rubber - wire extension cord to the transmitter of the radio - transmitter receiver was cut, thereby causing this piece of equipment to become inoperative as to transmitting. U

The personal autographed photograph of Director J. EDGAR HOOVER to SA [] was in a frame affixed to the wall in Room 203 occupied by SA []. The photograph of Mr. HOOVER had been removed from this frame and taken by unknown subjects. It should be noted the glass of this picture was not broken but was found with the frame on a table approximately 30 feet from where it was hanging on the wall. U

On the morning of March 9, 1971, SA [redacted] arrived at the Resident Agency Office of the FBI, County Building, Media, Pa., at approximately 7:58 a.m. when he observed the following: U

The door leading into Room 204 was ajar approximately two feet with the tall, large supply cabinet pushed away from the doorway enabling entrance into that room. An examination of the door frame reflected that the wood had been splintered indicating the lock and/or bolt had been broken away from the wooden door frame. U

Upon entering through this doorway leading into Room 204, it was learned from visual observation of each of the five rooms in the Resident Agency that the cabinets and desks in each of the rooms had been broken into. U

SA [redacted] in conjunction with other Special Agents at the Resident Agency, subsequently commenced a crime scene examination of the Resident Agency space. U

Several minutes before 8 a.m. on March 9, 1971, SA THOMAS F. LEWIS appeared at the Media Resident Agency of the FBI, Media, Pa., which is located on the second floor of the County Building, Front and South Streets, Media. This resident agency office consists of five rooms, three of which have exterior doors labelled 203, 204, and 205. The normal entrance door is to room 203 and the other doors are normally permanently locked. U

On this morning, however, it was noted that the lower lock on the door to Room 203 had been damaged and was inoperable. Further, it was noted that the door to Room 204 had been broken open and the doorjamb extensively damaged. U

On entering the resident agency space into Room 204, it was noted that the two large supply cabinets which were immediately inside this door were moved on an angle permitting access to the room. U

The supply cabinets contained various forms and paper supplies and none of this material appeared to have been missing. U

SA LEWIS immediately went to Room 205 which he occupies as his office. In this room it was noted the five-drawer file cabinet had been ransacked and the serials and investigative notes maintained in the first three drawers were missing. On first observing this file cabinet the lock button was out in an unlocked position and several of the drawers were either fully or partially opened. U

On examination it was determined that in addition to serials and notes relating to these serials it was noted the following items were missing from the third drawer in this file cabinet: U

Pamphlet entitled, "Correspondence with the FBI"

It was also noted the desk occupied by SA LEWIS had been forced open in such a manner that the lock was in a locked position when first observed and the middle drawer was open. The only thing apparently missing from this desk was a small personal telephone directory having brown vinyl cover being approximately 3 inches by five inches in size. U

It was noted that on the table directly in front of SA LEWIS' desk were a number of booklets entitled, "Directory of Students". These booklets reflected the names and addresses of students enrolled at Swarthmore College over the past several school years. U

These booklets were maintained in the third drawer in the file cabinet; however, they were found that morning by SA LEWIS on top of the table in a very neat pile. On further examination it was noted the only "Directory of Students" missing was that for the current school year. U

It is noted that the general physical condition of this room, desk and cabinets was neat and there were no papers strewn along the desk or on the floor. U

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 3/16/71

On March 9, 1971, immediately following the discovery of the break-in and burglary of the FBI Resident Agency Office, Media, Pa., an exhaustive search was conducted at the Resident Agency Office itself, in the restrooms, public corridors and stairways of the resident agency building and around the outside of the building for any evidence or burglary tools pertinent to this case. U

This search included a complete search of the trash cans located in the rear of the Resident Agency Building and the recesses and culverts at the base of the surrounding buildings and at the curb line in front of the building. U

No physical evidence or burglary tools were found. U

[redacted] advised that he has been a locksmith for over 25 years. U

[redacted] examined the two locks on the main door of the Media Resident Agency. He stated that it appeared to him that an attempt had been made by unknown persons to break these two locks by utilizing professional locksmith tools and/or knowledge. He pointed out that due to the quality of these two locks the attempt to break them was unsuccessful although the force applied to these locks caused them to become inoperative. U

[redacted] removed the locks from the main door and replaced them with new units. U

[redacted] then examined the two locks on the barricaded middle door to the Media Resident Agency. He explained that his findings indicated very strongly to him that an attempt had been made to pick this lock and that the only way to make sure was to take the lock apart in his shop and examine the five tumblers located in the lock. He pointed out that the complete security maintained via utilization of the locks on this door had forced the burglars to gain entrance by alternate means of smashing the door frame after encountering the impenetrable locks. U

[redacted] removed and replaced the locks on the middle barricaded door to the Media Resident Agency. U

[redacted] returned to his shop with the lock taken from the middle barricaded door and he proceeded to dismantle it. He stated upon examination of the five tumblers on the interior of the lock that the first three tumblers had very obviously been picked in view of the very fresh and multitudinous marks contained on these tumblers. He explained that his professional finding was that the burglars had succeeded in partially picking this lock but that the impenetrability of this lock had caused them to abandon their efforts and use brute force to smash the door frame to gain entrance. Item 1 - some toolmark-type impressions found in one of pieces of wood submitted. These impressions not sufficiently characteristic of particular type of tool used. No microscopic markings present to identify particular tool used.

Item 2 - impressions that could have been produced by a flat-bladed tool or a screwdriver, pry bar, or similar type instrument found on hasp and lock casing. Microscopic markings insufficient for identification purposes.

Item 3 - marks on lock like those produced by wrench, vice-grip pliers, and similar type tools. Some markings for comparison with any suspect tools recovered.

Item 4 - no markings found that could be associated with or identified as "pick" marks.

Item 5 - bears an impression that could have been produced by pliers or a similar type tool. Wire appears to have been severed by combination of pulling and pinching action. Markings insufficient to identify instrument that may have been used.

identified himself as a correspondent for Reuters News Service in the Philadelphia area and a free lance writer and photographer. For a number of years he has covered most of the anti-draft, anti-Vietnam demonstrations in the Philadelphia area and recently spent five weeks in Puerto Rico covering demonstrations on the island of Culebra, relative to its use by the Navy for target practice for the magazine "Newsweek" and "The Philadelphia Bulletin", a Philadelphia daily newspaper. As a result of this he is well known to leaders and others active in various peace and anti-draft groups in the Philadelphia area. U

About 7:00 a.m., on March 9, 1971, he was awakened by a telephone call at his residence. An anonymous caller advised if he went to the Media FBI Office he would discover all files had been removed and the caller had a statement to furnish and then read the statement which [redacted] copied on his typewriter as best he could. The voice of the caller was that of a mature male, soft in tone and completely unknown to him. U

Later in the morning he called the Reuters Office in New York City to report the anonymous telephone call and to inquire if they desired him to go to Media, Pa., to cover the reported breakin of the FBI office there. His New York office was not interested in the news item and as he had other things to do, he put it out of his mind. He assumed that he was not the only news representative who had received the early telephone press release and for this reason did not make further inquiries immediately. Later in the day he called "The Evening Bulletin" to learn if they had any information relating to a breakin at the Media Office of the FBI and they had nothing. He subsequently called the Media Office of the FBI and was referred to Philadelphia FBI Headquarters. Sometime about 5:00 p.m., he called the FBI in Philadelphia advised of the anonymous call and ascertained that a burglary had occurred at the Media office, government property had been taken and that an investigation was being conducted. [redacted] stated that he would determine the reporter who wrote the article and contact SA CARRIG. U

A short time after conversing with [redacted] SA CARRIG received a telephone call from [redacted] who revealed that he was the individual who wrote the article referred to above, and he identified himself as a reporter with the Philadelphia Tribune, which is headquartered at 522 South 16th Street, Philadelphia, Pa., telephone number KI 6-1005. He furnished this information: U

He received a news release from the Citizens' Committee investigating the FBI in the mail, which was directed to the Philadelphia Tribune, on Wednesday, March 10, 1971. The envelope containing this news release was addressed to him personally. He prepared the article based on this release, which appears in the Philadelphia Tribune on March 13, 1971. After writing his article, he discarded the release and the envelope by placing them in the trash. He stated they were "gone with the wind"; they had been burned. U

[redacted] was then requested to advise this Bureau in the event he received any additional releases or information. He remarked that he would "keep it in mind". U

SA CARRIG noted that at the outset of the conversation with [redacted] he asked if his conversation was being taped. He was informed that it was not. U

Result of examination: U

The questioned typewriter impressions on Qc2 most closely resemble the Laboratory standards for IBM Selectric style of type. Qc2 appears to be a Xerox copy and this copy could have been made from an original typewritten letter.

The submitted evidence was searched through the appropriate sections of the Anonymous Letter File without effecting an identification.

No watermarks, indented writing of value or other marks which would indicate the immediate source of this material were noted on Q1 or Qc2. The stamp on Q1 is from a booklet of stamps.

The submitted evidence will be returned separately. Photographs are retained.

By report dated March 19, 1971, the FBI Laboratory advised as follows: U

It was determined that the questioned typewriting on Q1 was not prepared on the typewriter used to prepare Qc2. The typewriter impressions on Q1 are very limited; however, they most closely resemble the Laboratory standards for Ransmeyer style of type which is used on many typewriters manufactured in Europe. The typewriter impressions on Qc2 most closely resemble the Laboratory standards for IBM Selectric style of type.

On the evening of March 8, 1971, he was in his apartment listening to round-by-round summary broadcast on the radio of the FRAZIER - CLAY Fight. After the fight, he left his apartment for a short walk and beer at one of the local taverns. He was away from his apartment only a short period of time. When he left the building and when he returned, he noticed nothing of an unusual or irregular nature. He noticed no one loitering in the hallways or on the steps of the building and noticed no one seated in any parked cars around the neighborhood of the County Building. He noticed no out-of-state license plates on any of the cars and was not aware of anything of an irregular nature. U

He recalled that the evening was a very windy night causing some noise by the rattling of the windows. He could recall no unusual noises during the evening of March 8, 1971, or during the early morning hours of March 9, 1971. U

No one has ever approached him to ask any question relative to the office space of the FBI in the County Building or about the individuals working in the County Building. As he was crossing the street to approach his car, he observed an old automobile which he estimated to be about five years old come around the corner off the Baltimore Pike driving in the direction of the FBI Resident Agency. He said this automobile appeared to have three or four occupants all of whom were white males at least of college age. He said the automobile was dark in color, but he did not observe any unusual aspects regarding the car nor did he observe the license plate. U

He said he did not notice how far the car continued up South Avenue, and the only reason he even recalls the incident was because he noticed the occupants were not teenagers driving around for a good time, and since he tries to be cautious regarding his personal safety. [redacted] was not certain that the vehicle he observed was actually seen during the early morning of March 9, 1971, since he visits the Towne House almost every night and it is quite possible that he saw this vehicle on some other morning. [redacted] who resides at [redacted] [redacted] Media, Pa., whose telephone number is LO 6-5464, personally visited the Media Resident Agency Office on the afternoon of March 16, 1971, when he advised as follows: U

He requested that the information which he was about to furnish be held in confidence because he was apprehensive about possible repercussions. He was born [redacted] [redacted] at Schenectady, N. Y. He graduated from Lansdowne High School, Lansdowne, Pa., and attended two years at the Pierce Business School, Philadelphia, Pa. He has been employed as an [redacted] Media, Pa., since 1960. He is a veteran of World War II and of the Korean War. U

On the evening of March 12, 1971, he had returned from New York City and intended to board at the Suburban Station, Philadelphia, John F. Kennedy Boulevard and 16th Streets, the 11 o'clock train to Media, Pa., but missed that train and took the next Penn Central train at 11:55 p.m. which arrived in Media, Pa., at 12:30 a.m., March 13, 1971. The 11 o'clock and the 11:55 trains operate between Philadelphia and Media, the last stop of each train being the station at Media, Pa.
He was seated in one of the coach cars waiting for the train to pull out from the station when five white male individuals seated themselves [redacted]
[redacted]
[redacted]

He was of the initial impression when he first saw them that they were Swarthmore College students because many of the students take the Penn Central train and the manner of their dress. It was after the train left the station and during conversation between the five of them that he overheard them mentioning the FBI, Media Office, had been broken into. When he overheard them mentioning the FBI he became interested and attempted to overhear their conversation. He overheard them say that the FBI Office in Media, Pa., had been broken into and "they," not necessarily meaning the five of these individuals, had "done in the office by a group." One of the individuals asked another who did it and he [redacted] got the impression that [redacted] knew who was responsible; however, he did not mention any names. He had the impression that this individual [redacted] was going to make a comment but did not wish to make the comment for fear of being overheard. He overheard in the conversation that the individuals who broke into the Media FBI Office got what they wanted and that there were going to be other break-ins in other FBI Offices. U

He noticed that all five individuals had round-trip tickets as they were being punched by the conductor. He did not overhear any nicknames or first names used by any of the individuals and likewise did not hear any school names mentioned. He also noticed that none of them got off at the Swarthmore Station, Swarthmore, Pa., where he had originally thought all five would depart from the train. All five remained on the train to Media, Pa. The train had some mechanical failure for which reason it had to stop about one eighth of a mile before the Media train platform and all passengers had to walk along the railroad tracks. He noticed all five individuals lagged behind the other passengers on the train and he lost contact and sight of these individuals. He attempted to see if any of them entered any automobiles or had other means of transportation at the station but he did not notice any of them after he arrived at the station platform. He has never seen these individuals before and has no idea as to where they went after they left the train. U

In regard to the three individuals [redacted]
[redacted] he was unable to give any description other than recalling they were three white male individuals, dark haired, and in their early twenties, and were well-spoken in their conversation and choice of words. U

In regard to the two individuals who [redacted]
he recalls that the one individual who sat next to the window is described as follows: U

PH 52-7165

Race	White
Sex	Male
Age	Early twenties
Build	Medium
Height	6 feet
Weight	Unable to judge
Hair	Light brown, straight, long but not extra long, styled in mod style; he does not recall any part in the hair and this individual was not wearing a hat
Mustache	Droopy, thick, light in color, untrained
Eyes	Color unknown, did not wear glasses
Complexion	Light complected, clean-shaven
Other	No scars, marks, unusual actions or motions
Clothing	Casual wear; probably wearing a jacket

The other individual [] was a white male individual somewhat older in years than the other four individuals and he recalls that this individual had a full-face, untrained, medium-length, dark beard. U

He also recalled that one of the five individuals had a button pinned on a jacket but he does not recall which individual had this button or the type of button. U

He indicated four were in their early twenties and the other was somewhat older in years. All were well-spoken and conversed in usual conversational tones. U

Since he has visited the Media Resident Agency on [redacted] he has recalled that the five individuals who were on the train with him, as he has previously related, appeared to him to be very uneasy until the conductor took their five tickets. He recalled that the conductor took all five tickets and punched them at the same time. It appeared to him that these individuals seemed to be concerned and very uneasy until the conductor had taken and punched their tickets. Upon further questioning as to his opinion why they appeared concerned and uneasy he had no logical explanation. U

He further recalled that these same five individuals, previously referred to, appeared to be very interested in focusing their attention from time to time on a college-aged girl and a gentleman approximately 50 years of age who sat approximately in the seats on the opposite aisle to the rear of him. He recalled that this man was a white male individual, approximately 50 years of age, wearing a hat and carrying a briefcase. He could give no further description relative to the college-aged girl other than she was a white female and presumably the daughter of the gentleman. He recalled that both the gentleman and this girl exited from the train at Swarthmore, Pa. U

Should he have any additional thoughts or recollections in this matter, he would immediately telephonically contact the office of the Media Resident Agency. U

[redacted] Penn Central Railroad, Media, Pa., on March 19, 1971, advised [redacted] Train Number 773 on the evening of March 12, 1971, leaving Suburban Station, Philadelphia, Pa., 11:55 p.m. and arriving at Media, Pa., at 12:30 a.m., March 13, 1971, which train was composed of two new model steel coach cars. He stated he could recall no five white male individuals boarding the train at Suburban Station, Philadelphia, the 11:55 p.m. train, or in his car which was the lead car and exiting the train at Media, Pa. He advised that this train had mechanical failure approximately one eighth mile from the Media, Pa., Station and all the passengers had to walk from the train to the Media, Pa., Station. He advised that during the usual weekday evenings there are usually approximately six individuals who exit from the cars at Media but usually on Friday evenings there are probably approximately 15 people riding the train to Media. He advised that there are approximately 45 people who usually board the train at the Suburban Station on this particular train. He advised he has been the [redacted] on this train for the past year. He advised he cannot recall, as previously mentioned, five individuals seated together fitting the description as previously mentioned. He advised he will remain alert for a group of individuals as described previously and if he should recall any information of value he would immediately call the FBI. U

He advised that his flagman, who took tickets in the second car on this train, was [redacted] and the engineer was [redacted] U

[redacted] Flagman, Penn Central Railroad, Media, Pa., on March 19, 1971, advised that he can recall no group of individuals seated together and described as previously mentioned having boarded the 11:55 p.m. train, Number 773, on March 12, 1971, at Suburban Station, Philadelphia, Pa., and exited from the train at Media. He advised that he does not usually have this particular run and was working as an extra on that evening. He advised that in the event he should recall any information that would be of value he would immediately notify the FBI. U

The purpose of the raid was to locate [redacted] and [redacted], Bureau fugitives. [redacted] and [redacted] were not at that location. U

On March 12, 1971, [redacted] came into the Media Resident Agency and stated that as a result of the raid he had to pay a $300 fine for the possession of marijuana and $200 to a lawyer. [redacted] said he felt this was unfair since the "grass" was not his but was simply on the other bed in the room where he was sleeping. [redacted] stated he did not know about the burglary and break-in at the Media Resident Agency as he does not read the papers. He stated he knew of no one who would be involved and advised he was certain none of the group living with him in the rear of [redacted] were involved. [redacted] was asked to notify the FBI if he received any information concerning the break-in at the Media Resident Agency and after consideration stated he felt he would do so but that he still was not happy with the FBI because he felt he should not have been arrested by the Springfield Police. The facts concerning this were explained to him and on departing [redacted] stated he would notify the FBI if he heard anything concerning the break-in of the Media Resident Agency. U

He is [redacted] the Greater Philadelphia Locksmiths Association and has been a locksmith for seven years. He advised that the association does not include all locksmiths in the Philadelphia area and currently includes 70 members. He provided the list of members for copies to be made. U

He said the Segal lock would have five tumblers in the outside cylinder and that a Segal can be picked by any locksmith who knows his business. He would not consider the Segal lock "pick resistant". He advised that if only three tumblers were scratched, it would appear that the person attempting to pick the lock did not know his business, as he would not have put the pick far enough into the lock. U

There are two methods of picking a lock which are "raking" or lifting each individual tumbler. "Raking" would leave scratches on the tumblers while lifting each tumbler would leave little or no scratches. U

He advised that other metropolitan areas would have locksmith associations similar to the one in Philadelphia. U

She inquired as to the nature of the matter to be discussed and she was informed that it was not desirable to discuss the matter over the telephone but that agents would be willing to meet her at her office or any other location which she found to be convenient within five minutes at which time she would have an opportunity to examine their identification and at which time she would be apprised of the nature of the inquiry. U

She was asked if there would be an opportunity sometime later in the evening when her schedule was not so demanding for an interview. She became evasive and again inquired as to the reason the FBI wanted to talk to her. She was informed that no information could be given to her over the telephone for obvious reasons except that the matter concerned the Media, Pa., Office of the FBI. She replied that she did not feel she possessed any information which would be helpful to the FBI and could not understand why such an interview was requested. She was again informed that interviewing agent would be more than happy to explain the matter in person in detail if she would interrupt her schedule for such an interview. She stated it could not be possible at the present time and suggested that she would probably be at her office at the college at 11 a.m. on March 18, 1971, if SA [redacted] wanted to call her back. She was asked if she would be available for an interview at that time to which she responded she did not know and she requested that she not be contacted in person without first receiving a telephone call. In connection with the investigation concerning the burglary of the Media, Pa., FBI Resident Agency on March 8 - 9, 1971, the following activity took place concerning an attempt to interview [redacted]

At about 3:33 p.m. SAs LYONS and [redacted] encountered an individual who identified himself as [redacted] a faculty member on the Haverford College staff, Political Science Department, just outside the Political Science Building at Haverford College. [redacted] was asked the directions to the offices of [redacted] and he volunteered to show agents where her office was located. [redacted] made the comment that he suspected agents to be affiliated with the FBI because of the way they were dressed; however, this assumption on his part was not confirmed by SA LYONS or [redacted]

At about 3:34 p.m. [redacted] and the Special Agents entered [redacted] office. SAs LYONS and [redacted] then identified themselves to [redacted] as Special Agents of the FBI by exhibiting their credentials which she scrutinized closely. She thereupon asked [redacted] to get a [redacted] and he departed the office. [redacted] was informed by SA [redacted] that an interview with her in an official matter of very serious consequences was desired at which time she said she did not want to say anything until [redacted] returned. [redacted] returned almost immediately at which time he interjected his opposition to tactics employed by the FBI such as always interviewing people in pairs but yet objecting when an individual being interviewed requested that a second party be present. U

At about 3:35 p.m. an individual entered the office and identified himself as a [redacted] of the Philosophy Department at Haverford College. He immediately began to voice objection to FBI policies including the methods the FBI use in exceeding their authority. He explained that he recognized the Federal Government's need to conduct certain investigations to protect itself but he was highly suspicious concerning the FBI and other agencies infringing upon the privacy of individuals. U

At about 3:37 p.m. [] said she thought she had made it clear that she did not desire to talk to the FBI at which time SA [] stated he did not get this impression since during the telephone conversation the previous day she had indicated her schedule was too busy to permit an interview that day but she might possibly consent to an interview on a later date. She said she had nothing to discuss with the FBI and did not understand why she was being contacted. She was told by SA [] that the interviewing agents would be willing to explain the purpose for the contact but that it would be preferred if the interview could be conducted in private. U

At about 3:37 p.m. SAs [] and LYONS observed what appeared to be a tape recorder in operation at which time SA LYONS asked [] if she was recording the conversation. She said that she was and inquired why the FBI would object to the interview being recorded since the FBI always recorded interviews. She was told by SA [] that since the FBI did not employ such tactics it was desired that she discontinue her recording. SA [] then stated if she had ever had occasion to visit one of the FBI Offices she was aware of the fact that the FBI did not record conversations with persons being interviewed. She was asked if she ever had occasion to visit an FBI Office anywhere in the area such as Media, Pa., and if she did, then she knew that no such recording policies were utilized. When it appeared that she was going to reply concerning ever visiting an FBI Office, [], in a loud voice, stated, "Don't answer that question." U

[] in a loud voice then asked, "Do you consider her (referring to [] to be a suspect regarding the burglary of the Media FBI Office?" He was informed by SA [] that no such statement had been made and that since it was apparent [] would not consent to an interview it was useless to continue. U

At about 3:38 [] was told that the FBI was desirous of talking to her about an official matter but since she apparently felt strongly regarding not being interviewed, her wishes would be respected on this occasion and that the interviewing agents would have to leave. U

SA LYONS and [] began leaving the office at which time [] stated, "The next time you come back bring warrants." No response was made to this statement. U

SA LYONS and SA [] left the office of [] at about 3:38 p.m., returned to their automobile, and departed the Haverford College campus. U

During the above interview [] appeared to be very nervous, was visibly shaken by the confrontation with SAs LYONS and [] and appeared to become more nervous when asked whether or not she had ever visited an FBI Office. U

SA THOMAS F. LEWIS while on duty at the Media Resident Agency of the FBI, Media, Pa., was contacted at about 1 p.m., February 24, 1971, by an unidentified female who appeared at the Media Resident Agency. This individual did not identify herself by name, and SA LEWIS did not attempt to secure her identity. U

She stated that she was doing research in this area compiling facts and figures on equal job opportunities for women and equal pay for women doing the same job as their male counterparts. She said that she was not inferring that there was discrimination against women but that the purpose of her survey was to develop this information from an objective standpoint and then incorporate these findings in a paper which would be presented at a conference on this matter to be held at Temple University the following weekend. U

This woman did not identify her organization by name, and she referred to the conference at Temple University under such general terminology as conference on employment opportunities for women. U

This woman remained in the Media Resident Agency for approximately five minutes. She specifically inquired as to whether any women worked in this resident agency, and in response she was told that no women worked there since the resident agency is manned only by agents, and there is no clerical staff assigned there. U

In response to a question posed by her, she was told that the FBI does not have female Special Agents. U

SA LEWIS asked this woman why she had singled out the FBI Office to secure the information for her paper. She replied that she was contacting all business offices in the immediate area and that we should not assume since it would be inaccurate that her inquiry was restricted to the FBI or to Government agencies only. U

At this point, SA LEWIS suggested the woman might desire to stop by the Philadelphia Office of the FBI since this is the headquarters office covering the entire Eastern, Pa., area including, of course, Media, Pa. She replied that her "territory" in connection with this project was limited to the immediate area of Media near the Resident Agency Office but that she would pass on this suggestion to another woman who in effect would be her counterpart doing the same type research in the geographic area encompassing the FBI Office in Philadelphia. U

This woman made inquiry as to what type positions are available to women in the FBI. In reply she was told generally of job opportunities available to women in the FBI, and she was furnished a number of Bureau handouts on the same subject matter. U

At this point the woman expressed appreciation for the courtesies extended, and she left the office. U

On leaving the office and as she was walking away from the front door of the office, she made a remark to the effect that she had either just been to the Draft Board immediately next door or was just going there in the course of her survey. U

It is noted that while talking to SA LEWIS, this woman appeared to have been making notes in a small notebook which she had been carrying in a briefcase. U

This woman is described as white female, age 25, 5'5" tall, approximately 120 pounds, dark brown hair, parted in the middle, slender build, fair complexion, smooth fine facial features, high cheek bones, wearing black horn-rimmed prescription glasses, a crocheted tam, multi-designed, basically green in color, dark green overcoat extending below the knee, high leather or plastic knee length boots. On February 24, 1971, SA [] had occasion to notice, from primarily a side view, a woman in conversation with SA THOMAS F. LEWIS in the Media Resident Agency. From overhearing parts of the conversation it appeared as though the woman were a reporter from some newspaper or periodical inquiring about work opportunities. From a casual profile view of this woman SA [] recalls that she was a white female; approximately 5 feet 4 inches to 5 feet 6 inches; 115 to 120 pounds; apparently slender build; clear, smooth, fair complexion with relatively high cheekbones and refined facial features. She wore medium-weight black horn-rimmed glasses. Her hair was dark brown or black, mostly covered with a knitted or crocheted green tam with small gray square blocks. She was wearing a dark green, roughly finished, green full-length coat to her knees. Both the tam and the overcoat appeared somewhat soiled from what appeared to be long wear or use and were in need of cleaning and pressing. Her hair around the sides and back of her head was protruding from underneath the tam, the ends of which hair were somewhat wavy and curled but apparently was not well combed or well kept. U

Date 3/16/71

On March 16, 1971, SA THOMAS F. LEWIS viewed over 100 photographs depicting individuals taking part in an anti-war - anti-draft demonstration in Philadelphia, Pa. U

Most of these pictures depicted groups of individuals taking part in this demonstration. U

The first group of photographs on table number one was reviewed.. After careful study, SA LEWIS picked out a photograph, which photograph is marked on the back number 31 in blue, depicting a group of individuals and, in his opinion, the young white female standing in this group to the left of center with dark horn-rimmed glasses, a raincoat with hood down, and dark hair parted in the middle, as being a very good likeness of the individual who appeared at the Media Resident Agency inquiring about job opportunities and equal pay for woman employees on February 24, 1971. U

On table number two SA LEWIS picked out a photograph marked number 26 in red on the back depicting a group of six persons standing in the form of a picket line in front of a building. SA LEWIS believes the girl, who was the one standing third from the right as you look at the photograph, wearing dark horn-rimmed glasses and a raincoat, bears a very good likeness to the unidentified woman who appeared at the Media Resident Agency on February 24, 1971. U

SA LEWIS was unable to determine merely from viewing these photographs whether the girl depicted in photograph number 26 and the girl depicted in photograph number 31 is, in fact, the same individual. U

On March 16, 1971, SA [] viewed in excess of 100 photographs depicting individuals taking part in an anti-draft - anti-war demonstration in Philadelphia, Pa. U

Most of these photographs depicted groups of individuals taking part in this demonstration. U

The first group of photographs, located on table number one, was reviewed and photograph number 31 (blue) was selected by SA [] In this photograph there was a white female with her hair in a bun wearing a raincoat who very strongly resembled the white female who appeared at the Media Resident Agency on February 24, 1971. This female is wearing dark horn-rimmed glasses with her hair parted in the middle. U

Also on table number one SA [] selected a photograph marked with letter "A" (blue) of a white female wearing glasses seated on the floor of a draft board. This female bears a slight resemblance to the white female who appeared at the Media Resident Agency on February 24, 1971. U

Also on table number one SA [] selected two photographs, numbers 11 and 30, in which is a white female wearing dark glasses who was taking part in the demonstration. This female bears a slight resemblance to the white female who appeared at the Media Resident Agency on February 24, 1971. U

In an effort to identify the unknown female who appeared at the Media Resident Agency on February 24, 1971, making inquiry regarding a survey on job opportunities and equal employment pay for females in this area, SA THOMAS F. LEWIS on March 15, 1971, viewed the photographs appearing in a leaflet entitled "We, The People." U

This leaflet contains two photographs each one depicting a group of young men and women. The written material on this leaflet states that "We, the People" claimed responsibility for the illegal entry into the draft board at Lansdowne, Pa., on the night of May 19, 1970. U

After carefully studying the two group photographs SA LEWIS was unable to state that any of the females depicted in these photographs were identical to the unknown female who appeared at the Media Resident Agency on February 24, 1971. U

[redacted] Local 119 C, National Union of Hospital and Nursing Employees, AFL - CIO, Room 710, 1211 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa., was personally approached by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] at the above office where she was requested to speak to SAs [redacted] and [redacted] in the hallway outside of the above office. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] identified themselves to her when they were in the hallway outside the above office. She was informed there had been a break-in and burglary at the Resident Agency Office of the FBI at Media, Pa., on March 8 - 9, 1971, when some Government property had been taken, but the type of Government property was not specified. She was advised she was not being questioned or interviewed as a suspect in this matter but was being approached on a cooperative basis in the event she knew of or had heard from anyone any information which might be relevant to or helpful in the identification of the ones who committed this burglary. U

From the outset of the discussion with SAs [redacted] and [redacted] in the hallway, mentioned above, she was unfriendly and displayed a distinct feeling of enmity. She indicated she did not wish to talk with agents of the FBI and abruptly closed the conversation and returned directly into the office of the above union. U

SA [redacted] observed [redacted] during the above interview. She was not identical with the unidentified woman who was in the Media Resident Agency on or about February 24, 1971. U
